DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-2, 9-10, 17, 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Inoue et al.(6,515,974).

With regards to claims 1, 10, 25, Inoue teaches a method comprising: receiving data containing a private network address of a first node in a first wireless network; translating the private network address to a public network address; and sending data containing the public network address to a second node in the second wireless network.(Fig. 3, col. 9 lines 46-61).

Claim 2 is rejected because the NAT translates between a private network' address and global network address and vice versa.

Claim 9 is rejected because the translating is performed by a NAT.

Claim 17 is rejected because Inoue teaches in Fig. 19 both a private network home agent and an internet home agent.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 18-24 are allowed.

Claims 3-8, 11-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
